With this web service, Crane DCS provides data including flight catering and passenger figure information to the Webcom application. A request can be sent with flight number, departure port, departure date and airline code.

Passenger figure service provides the following information based on cabin class and flight to Webcom by reading it from the Crane DCS system.

- Total number of seats,
- Number of boarded passengers,
- Number of checked-in passengers,
- Number of remaining seats available for sale on the flight,
- The total number of children and infant passengers on the plane are listed in separate areas as Booked and Checked-in,
- Catering SSR code,
- Passenger information; name, surname, gender, date of birth,
- Passenger's seat information.

The response does change according to the search criterias. The departure date field is mandatory due to service performance and if only departureDate is sent in the request, all flights within that day will be returned as a response. When the departure date and departure port are sent together, the flights for that day are returned in response based on the departure port. In addition, when a flight number is given, a more specific flight response is returned. Optionally, airline code can be sent on the request. In this way, flights with different airline codes can be separated.

Regardless of search criteria the <allowAddNorec> field must be set true in the request. Cabin class conversion of Norec passengers is carried out with this area. In case it is set to false, norec passengers are added to the virtual cabin class figures in the response. If this field is not sent in the request, it is set to false by default.

1. GetCraneFlightLoadCatering Sample Requests

Note : The service can be accessed in the UAT environment with the user information given in the below requests. Please ask HITIT for a PROD user to access the service in a production environment.

Note 2 : The given explanations are based on the datas in the request samples !

2.1 search with departure date

Apart from user information, it is a request sent only by setting the localDate field in the departure object. With the sample request, all flights on 10 September 2023 are returned in the response.

2. Response Structure

The <flightFigureList> object is opened separately for each flight. This field includes <equipmentType>, <flight> and <portFigureList> fields. The <equipmentType> field contains the aircraft type and tail information of the aircraft.

The <flight> field contains flight information such as departure/arrival port, airline code, flight departure/arrival time, flight number, and flight status. This field also contains catering information within the flight in the <dcsPassengerCateringListTypes> field. This area is opened separately for each passenger with a catering ssr. It contains passenger information (name, surname, date of birth, gender), passenger seat information, pnr no, ssr information (code, explanation, status, count) and coupon status information.

The <portFigureList> object contains passenger figure information.

- The number of remaining seats available for sale on the flight is given on a cabin class basis in the <availabilityFigure> field.

- The total number of boarded passengers is given on cabin class basis in the <boardedFigure> field (infant passengers are not included). This field does not return in response if there are no boarded passengers on the flight.
- The total number of boarded infant passengers is given on cabin class basis in the <boardedInfantFigure> field (infant with seat passengers are not included). This field does not return in response if there are no boarded infant passengers on the flight.
- The number of child passengers with a reservation is given in the <bookedChild> field.
- The total number of booked passengers is given in the <bookedFigure> field but infant passengers are not included in the figure in this area. Infant with seat passengers are included.
- The number of booked infant passengers is given in the <bookedInfant> field. Infant with seat passengers are not included in this calculation.
- Infant with seat passengers with reservations are given separately in the <bookedInfantWithSeat> field. The number of passengers in this figure is also included in the bookedFigure.
- The total capacity on the plane is given on the basis of cabin class in the <capacityFigure> fields.
- The total number of checked-in passengers (infant with seat passengers are included, infant passengers are not included) is given in the <checkedFigure> field. This field does not return if there are no checked-in passengers on the flight.
- In the <checkedinInfant> field, the number of checked-in infant passengers is given. Infant with seat passengers are not included in this figure. This field does not return if there are no checked-in infant passenger on the flight.
